A Negro Ravisher's Ears and Fingers Cut Off Before He Was Hanged.

His Head Hacked From the Body With Pocket Knives After Death.

Sickening Details of a Crime Which Has No Parallel in This Country.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 16.—Jefferson Ellis, the Fayette County assailant, was strung to a telegraph pole at 1:40 this morning by 350 men within 200 yards of the scene of his crime. Before hanging the negro the mob cut off both his ears and all of his fingers and otherwise mutilated him in a manner too horrible to tell.

As soon as this was done an armed squad of men took Ellis from Constable Farrow and started with him for the pike, where the public road crossed the Louisville & Nashville railroad. Here there is also a tele-graph pole. A big fire had been built at the place and around it the mob gathered in a circle. The handcuffed negro was on his kness before the fire. The leaders of the mob told Ellis to pray, but he only looked at them in a stupid manner. Being told that he was about to die he raised his voice in a negro hymn. By the time he had finished the mob was looking ugly. The fiercer element were in complete control. Cries of "Burn him!" were heard on all sides. This fearful fate would probably have been fort-

THE GIRL WANTS TO STAY.

Lydia Spence Declares That Mr. Rhea's Family Have Not Ill-Treated Her.

By invitation of Mr. James H. Rhea, a Post-Dispatch reporter called at Mr. Rhea's residence, 1379 Belt avenue, and interviewed residence, 1379 Belt avenue, and interviewed the girl, Lydla Spence, or Belle Wells, as she is now called. Mr. Rhea contends that he and his family have been misrepresented by the statements of Mrs. Callte Dillon, whose attempts to secure possession of her sister have already been detailed. Hitherto all of the girl's statements have been in the presence of the Rhea family, and Mrs. Dillon alleged that she was compelled by fear to say what she did. In order to disprove this, Mr. Rhea insisted that this interview should be with the girl alone, untrammeled by the presence of any member of his family, and such were the conditions.

prove this, Mr. Rhea insisted that this interview should be with the girl alone, untrammeled by the presence of any member of his family, and such were the conditions.

Closely questioned by the reporter, the girl reiterated her former statement that she preferred remaining with the Rheas to going, with her sister, and emphatically denied having ever been ill treated by them. She stuck to her story of desiring to remain in the city on account of having a sweetheart to whom she expects to be married shortly. The girl denies having told the neighbors about being abused, or having written to her sister that she would kill herself if she did not come and take her away. In short, she seems to be perfectly contented to remain where she is, and the chief reason Mr. Rhea keeps her is that when Mrs. Rhea's mother took the girl from her parents, some ten years ago, a promise was made that she should be kept away from her relatives.

In view of this statement from the girl, and the fact that the girl is of age and her own mistress, it is unlikely that any legal proceedings on the part of her relatives to get her away from Mr. Rhea could be successfully prosecuted. It is also manifestly plain that Mrs. Dillon has been misinformed

Norman S. Pation's Address Before the Architects' Institute.

TO OFFSET COMPETITION.

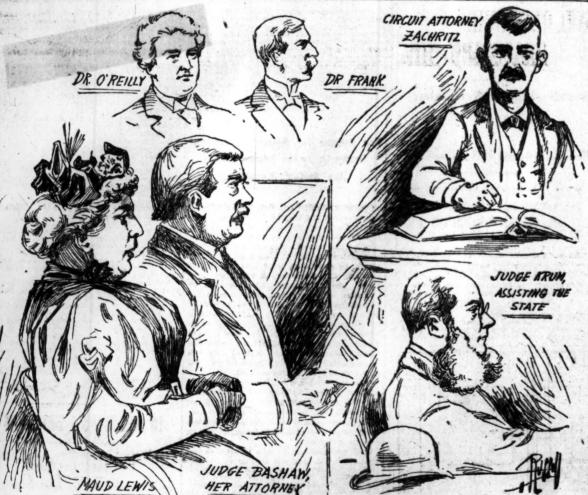

An Outlining of the Daty of the Architeet to the Public and His Profession.

The second day's session of the American Institute of American Architects opened at 10:20 o'clock this morning. In the absence of President Burnham, who left last night for Atlanta, Ga., First Vice-President George B. Post of New York presided.

Last evening the visitors were pleasantly entertained by the local chapter at a reception in the Museum of Fine Arts. Mayor Walbridge was present and delivered a happy address, controverting the famous phrase, "Architecture is frozen music." He maintained that "frozen language" would have been the better term, as music exhaintained that "rozen language" would have been the better term, as music expresses only conditional thought, while architecture and language express alike every shade of thought.

The Institute listened to papers by Norman S. Patton of Chicago and James B. Cook of Memphis.

In the light of this sworn testimony from Dr. O'Reflly, Andrews' confession that he shot Morrissey falls rather flat.

On the cross-examination of the doctor an enumeration of the number and variety of drinks consumed by the party occupied quite a considerable amount of time. Witness felt rather sure that everybody was more or less drunk. The rest of the cross-examination developed nothing of interest or importance.

He remembered hearing the woman say after the shooting, "I've killed my Pete," and repeat it again and again. There were no signs of any scuffle in either the front or back rooms. He heard Maud say that Mora rissey had beaten her. As to exact details, the doctor's memory seemed a little hazy, but he insisted that he had not been intoxicated.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Oct. 16.—The excitement incident to the arrival in this city last evening of Gen. Geo. P. Taylor, city last evening of Gen. Geo. P. Taylor. Commanding the State Militia, with orders from Gov. Clarke to suppress the Corbett-Fitzsimmons giove contest has somewhat subsided. A conference of the citizens' committee and officials of the Florida Club Association was held at the Arlington Hotel last night, at which Gen. Taylor was present. To him was submitted the revised articles of agreement and the five-ounce gloves which the men propose to use in the contest for scientific politis.

It was a star chamber proceeding and nothing as to the result of it was given out, except that it was agreed to summons Gov. Clarke to come over and take in the situation himself, as it was believed and so expressed by Gen. Taylor that the Governor has been missied and misinformed by those opposing the contest.

The Governor was telegraphed for last night and arrived this afternoon, and will have a nonference with the Citizens' Committee at 4 o'clock. If the Governor still maintains his present opposition, the matter will be carried into court for a test, and in the event the court decides such a glove contest to be no violation of the law, the contest will take place.

Mayor Waters was in the conference, and, upon being asked to give the result, emphatically refused to do so, saying that the lines of procedure agreed upon were to be kept from the press. That there were some things that the newspapers should not have and could not obtain from him especially. The Mayor intimated that there would be some early and interesting developments as a result of the conference.

In view of the fact that in view of the determination expressed by the Governor to their arrival in the State Corbett has been here almost twenty-four hours and has not yet been placed in custody by either the State or county officials, color is given to the being from the press. glove contest for a limited number of rounds wherein there are doubts of a decision being arrived at as to which is the champion, he or Corbett.

The five-ounce gloves which they propose to use in the fight were submitted to Gen. Taylor for inspection.

Billy Brady said this morning that he was not discouraged, and thought they would be able to pull off the fight in this city without interference. Champion Corbett was seen this morning shortly after his ten-fille run. He was feeling in fine fettle, and said he was never in better condition in his life. He has a healthy color, his eyes are bright and he is thoroughly confident that he will easily defeat the Australian. He will appear at the Opera-house to-night, and will go out to his training quarters at Boring Lake to-morrow, where the rest of his party now are.

Nearly all the members of the prize-fighting contingent have put in an appearance. Peter Maher and Steve O'Donnell came in on the same train last night with Corbett. O'Donnell and party stopped off at Spring Lake, three miles down the railroad and went directly to the training quarters that have been selected for them. Maher came on to the city and put up at the Arlington Hotel until this morning, when he quietly slipped out to Hughes' wine garden, a resort situated about a half mile south of the city, and where training quarters have been established for him. Both the men are in the pink of condition and appear to be training hard and conscientiously.

Gen. John B. Henderson's Ideas About Coinage.

FAVORS A SINGLE STANDARD.

Regards Cleveland as the Best of Demecratic Presidents and Thinks Bland Dangerous Because of Ris Views.

Gen. John B. Henderson, ex-Senator from Missouri, is at-the Southern Hotel, where he arrived Monday might. Business reasons Western trip, but he will embrace the opportunity to visit his old home in Pike County, where he has accepted an invita-tion to deliver an address on Oct. 29 on the county, where he has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on Oct. 29 on the money question.

Although Gen. Henderson has been for several years a resident of Washington, he is still a citizen of Missourl, where he acquired fame and wealth, and he retains his affection for the State that was the scene of the struggles and successes of his youth and manhood. He has large interests here, his property probably exceeding $1,000,000 in value.

In his political career, voluntarily ended, Gen. Henderson attained distinction at an early age. He was elected to the Legislatture from Pike County before he had attained majority, which transpired only a few days before the session convened.
From that time his eareer both in politics and at the bar was a brilliant one. Step by step he rose in public confidence and esteem, and after he had been appointed at the age of 36 by Gov. Hall to fill a vacancy in the full of fight, and even seem confident of accomplishing something in the way of national legislation."

"Do you think Mr. Bland has lost political presstage?"

"Oh, no. There is no man in putific life to-day that I have a higher respect and esteem for than Mr. Bland. His integrity and moral character are unquestioned, and his, personal influence is undiminished. I believe Mr. Bland is perfectly honest in his views, but I think he is wrong. He is not a financier and does not understand practical finances. I regard Mr. Bland as a very dangerous man. He casts his great personal weight in support of legislation that would. I believe, have an evil effect on the country. It is most unfortunate for the sound money cause to have to encounter the opposition of a man like Bland. I have no doubt that he will be enter public life and he will be an important factor in future legislation on the silver question."

"Gene al, what do you think of the St. Louis of the present?"

"I think, and I have frequently heard said so in other places, that St. Louis is the solidest city in the United States. This was conclusively shown during the panic of 1833, when she was undoubtedly the most solvent city, in fact almost the only solvent city, in fact almost the only solvent city, in fact almost the only solvent city, in this country. There are sound reasons for this. St. Louis' prosperity is founded on a rock. She has never been afflicted by any of these so-called booms, which inflate values only to leave business flabby when they subside. St. Louis owns itself, and in this fact is to be found a guarantee for her future prosperity."

Gen. Henderson will remain in St. Louis until the first of November, which period he will devote to the business that called him West.

A Post-Dispatch reporter called upon Senator Henderson Wednesday morning with the intention of congratulating him on the occasion of his sixty-ninth birthday, which to-day happened to be. It would be difficult, however, to recognize in the erect vigorous man who greeted the visitor one who has nearly attained the allotted three score and ten. The ex-Senator does not look his age by at least fifteen years. His carriage is as erect and his movements as alert as when he made his first memorable campaign in this State against James S. Rollins of Boone County, now long since passed away; and his eye, though not as bright, and his voice as firm as when it rang clear and strong in the Senate chamber. Gen. Henderson has lost none of his mental and little of his physical vigor, and when he greets his old triends and neighbors, irrespective of political affiliations, in Louisiana two weeks hence, they will be able to recognize him without difficulty. He is a sound money man, but one of temperate Judgment and conservative ideas.

In conversing with the reporter Gen, Henderson said:

In conversing with the reporter Gen, Henderson said:

I am out of politics for good, and would not accept an office if it was offered to me. During the brief span of life that I have still to hope for I can live equally well under any administration or any party. But advancing years have not extinguished my patriotism and what I will have to say to my old friends and constituents will be my absolute convictions, gleaned from long observation and experience." gleaned from long observation and experience.
"I am, in the political parlance of the day, a sound money man. I fully endorse the attitude of the present administration on the financial question. Cleveland is, in my opinion, the best President ever elected by the Democratic party. I do not hesitate to say that I would like to see this country on a single gold standard, and I believe such a condition best for the interests of all classes of citizehs. In holding this opinion I have due respect for those who entertain opposing views."

"Do you think the silver movement is advancing or receding?"
"Well, in the East the silver craze is practically dead. We hear nothing more about it. In fact, the present situation in the East is excellently illustrated by an anecdote, which I heard many years ago.
"I gentleman one day met another and inquired after a mutuar acquaintance."
"How is Jehn Smith? he said.

United States Senate, the people indorsed his course there by electing him to the vacancy at the next election. It was his fortune to serve in the Senate during the stormy period of the civil war, during which time he was one of President Lincoln's most valued advisers.

After Mr. Lincoln's assassination he sat at the impeachment of President Johnson and was one of the 7 Republican senators who averted what might have again fanned the smouldering embers of the war into flame, by voting against the conviction of Mr. Johnson. Subsequently he retired from public life and resumed his law practice, and has been for two decades connected with much of the most important litigation in the West and particularly in Missouri. Of late years, however, he has gradually abandoned his practice and now awaits only the final adjudication of some important matters to permanently withdraw from active work at the bar.

A Post-Dispatch reporter called upon Sensome liberal and patriotic citizens come to the relief of the local military organization.

After the lest day of January Mr. Louis C. Nelson, who owns the Armory building and site at Seventeenth and Pine streets, demands that he be paid rental therefor. In its present state the local organization is in no condition financially to pay rent and the only thing for it to do is to disband and turn its arms back to the State. There has been some intimation of a call for funds being made on St. Louis capitalists for the maintenance of the militia, but so far no definite action has been taken.

Col. Cavender when seen said no future policy has been adopted, but promised some developments in a few days.

In conversation with a Post-Dispatch reporter Col. Batdorf said:

"The general public understands the crisis mearly as well as we do, and what the outcome will be I can't say. As the matter now stands, the only thing I see for us to do is disband and turn our arms back to the State. I have advised Adjt.-Gen. Wickham to that effect.

"There is no use of the press and citizens harping on the question of the State coming to our assistance, for the State won't do anything. It was only by the hardest kind of work that an appropriation of $20,000 was obtained at the last session of the Legislature. And as the Legislature doesn't convene again for a year, what relief can we expect from them?

"If the militia is to be continued in St. Louis the citizens will have to furnish the money for its support. The $20,000 appropriated is to cover a period of two years, which mgans only $30,000 a year, and when you come to divide that between four regiments and two batteries there isn't enough for the St. Louis regiment to pay half the rent demanded for the Armory one year.

"The list Regiment at present is in a flourishing condition, aside from financial affairs, and I should hate to see it go under. In all it comprises $41, officers and men. This includes field and staff, eight companies, a hospital corps, signal corps and a band of th

The Post-Dispatch two weeks ago an-The Post-Dispatch two weeks ago announced that an investigation was being made of the iron work, but the nature of it did not develop until Tuesday afternoon, when Carl Gaylor, bridge engineer of the Street Department, made his report to the board.

The board discussed it in executive session all the afternoon and have been in session all day to-day without reaching any conclusion.

The salient features of the report are as follows:

be made free of them. The only possibility is that there may be floating cores. These would weaken the columns and their presence can be detected only by boring.

A Post-Dispatch reporter saw both members of the Christopher Simpson Architectural Iron Co., which had the iron work contract. The price was $84,84, and the last payment was made in February, 1893. Mr. Christopher. Mr. Simpson and the tompany's engineer, Mr. Simpson and the tompany's engineer, Mr. Simon, took issue with every statement made in the report. To show that cast iron was preferable to either wrought iron or steel for resistance to compression the tables of the Carnegie Steel Co. were consulted.

Here the ultimate resistance to compression of castiron was placed at from $2,000 to 145,000 per square inch; wrought iron, 36,000 to 40,000 per square inch; and steel, 5 per cent more than wrought iron. It was calculated that a column it inches in diameter would withstand a compression of 2,750 tons, instead of 240 tons, as the plans rated them. The tables are based on a factor of 4: that is, the resistance is really four times greater than the tables give as a safe calculation.

The gentlemen laughed at the intimation in that the alleged defects were purposely concealed by putty or lead. They said that had an or the sufface merely to give a finished smooth exterior.

Then they showed the reporter cast work of all kinds in their works as a safe of column and the column is and holes and blow holes were inseparable from all cast work, and that putty or selection.

face merely to give a finished smooth exterior.

Then they showed the reporter cast work of all kinds in their works, in all of which these alleged defects appeared. Mr. Christopier said that if the pillars were scraped in any of the large buildings of the city the same appearance would be presented. In the Planters' Hotel the original plans called for steel columns, but they were changed because the management became satisfied that iron would stand compression better. In New York City the Building Commission two years ago barred steel columns completely.

ALL CABANNE DISCUSSING HIM.

Rev. Mr. Elmer Has an Interesting Life Story.

Thirty Years His Senior.

The sudden notoriety that has come to Rev. William Elmer, pastor of the Episco-pal Church of the Ascension at Cabanne, that aristocratic suburb.

Mr. Elmer has quite an interesting life Mr. Elmer has quite an interesting life story. He was not always a priest of the established church. There was a time when he was an advocate of hard shell Baptist ideas. Added to this Mr. Elmer is a divine who rides a bicycle and is married to a lady who belongs to one of the first families of Virginia and is some thirty odd years his senior So Cabanne has its sensation and is enjoying it to its heart's content, quite unmindful of the momentous question of high or low church services that seem to be the rock on which Mr. Elmer and his congregation have split.

and his congregation have spit.

Mr. Elmer came to this country from England when 19 years of age, and soon after his arrival completed his education in an Eastern Baptist Theological Institute. Then for a few years everything went along smoothly enough, the young Baptist minister secured a small but rapidly growing church, and until he was 27 years old it looked as though he was destined to be one of the shining lights in the Baptist world. When he reached that age, however, he met and won the present Mrs. Elmer, who was then a Mrs. George Hall.

Mrs. Hall, whose name before she was married was also Hall, came from Virginia, and was related to the Carters, Randolphs, and other of the finest families in the Old Dominion. When the late Mr. Hall departed this life he left his widow quite a fortune. She was good looking withal, a fine linguist and accomplished in many ways.

There was only one bar to prevent their being made one and that Mr. Elmer easily disposed of. Mrs. Hall had all her life been brought up in the doctrines of the Episcopal Church and objected to changing to the denomination of her husband to be, and so he took the same course as that pursued by Mahomet in his little affair with the mountain, and changed his views in accordance with her wishes and became an Episcopal minister, and then they were married.

That was seventeen years ago, and he was then 35 years of age and she was some 30 odd years his senior.

About seven years ago Mr. Elmer was called to his present parish in Cabanne place. He, having just completed a three-year trip with his wife, accepted it and moved out in the West End. Before accepting the position Mr. Elmer had it understood that he was to receive $1,500 a year for ten months' work; the other two months he was always spent with his wife in their ele-

Things went on from bad to worse, some of the congregation thought the rector was not high church encugh and others thought he was too high, and so two parties were formed, the Elmer faction and the Anti-Elmerites. At first the former were the strongest, and several vestrymen on the latter side were put out of that body, but now the Anti-Elmer people seem to be in the lead, and at the last vestry meeting Mr. Elmer was asked to resign.

This he has not yet done, although he

WHERE IS THE LIMIT !

The Comptroller's statement of the amounts appropriated for the City Hall shows a total of $1,348,666.66. Of this sum $998,367 have been expended, leaving an available balance of $350,299.66.

There is no assurance that this balance will be sufficient to complete the build-ing, although it provides for an expenditure of more than one-third of a million dollars in excess of the original estimate of its cost, upon which the contract was awarded. The best that can be promised is that it will make the building habitable.

How much more will be needed to complete the building? When is the limit expenditure to be reached? It is certain that the building will cost not less than $1,500,000, and that the city was duped into accepting plans of a building to cost a third more than was expected,

Of course, jobbery is responsible for much of this excess. The various surface investigations which have been made show that, but is it not time to fix limit both to jobbery and to legitimate expenditure? Surely the commis sion can now place a fair estimate on the remaining work to be done and can determine the total cost.

This should be done and all additional contracts held within the limit. The city should not be compelled to bear the burden of an ever-increasing job.

AN EXCELLENT SUGGESTION.

In support of a recommendation that the girls of the South Evanston Industrial School be placed in private famflies, Gov. Altgeld remarks:

In all conditions, life is in a sense com petitive, and the boys and girls who have grown up in private homes possess a degree of self-confidence and self-reliance, to say nothing of a knowledge of the world and of affairs, which places them far in advance of the institution girl or boy in the struggle for existence. It is a common thing to see in institutions both girls and boys who are bright and industrious and spirited, and possess excellent principles, but who are absolutely helpless when they leave the institution. They become accus-tomed to work with a large number and be-come accustomed to being provided for and ing guided in all particulars, so that as a rule they are weakened for life, while the children coming from even the poorest private homes are found to be self-reliant, and often become the most successful men ceived little consideration from charity experts, but the soundness of it is manifest. Gov. Altgeld has discovered and exposed the inherent weakness of the institutional system of charity in a manner which proves the keenness of his observation and his good sense.

The Governor's conclusion is approved by reason and experience. The habit of dependence is fatal to success in life. The character and knowledge which make for success are only acquired by make for success are only acquired by struggle and contact with the conditions of life as they are, not as they may be artificially arranged by parents, guardians or charity commissioners.

The truth of this is often shown b the contrasts in the careers of pampered youth for whom all advantages are provided and the children of poor paren who must win all the advantages they enjoy. Some of the best and most successful men this country has produced have been boys sent out from cities to earn their living in the country.

Of course temporary refuges are necessary and training schools are valuable but the sooner the juvenile wards of charity can be removed from the influence of dependence and institutional direction and placed with proper discretion in the ordinary conditions of life the better for them and society.

This is the way the Post-Dispatch is being "ruined" by the present management: The net profits for the week ending last Sunday were $2,747.74 in excess of the same week last year, when in fact there was a loss; and $889.02 in excess of the corresponding week for the year 1893, which was the best previous year in the Post-Dispatch's history. In spite of the cut in price to one cent, the revenue last week from circulation was $415.70 in excess of the corresponding week last year. This is the kind of "ruin" that newspapers crave.

STATE COMMITTEE MEETING.

What is the matter with the Demo cratic State Committee? Why has there been such a delay in calling a meeting The Democratic State Convention at Pertle Springs made plain the desire of the party that the work of organization and of preparation for next year's campaign should be promptly begun. The com-mittee was enlarged for the purpose of making that organization more effective and bringing it closer to the people. More than two months have elapsed, and not a single step has been taken towards the performance of the duties imposed upon the State Committee.

There is no difficulty about calling a meeting of the committee at any time. The State Convention itself prescribed, in the following resolution, the manner of calling such a meeting:

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the Chairman of the State Committee to call the committee together when requested by three committeemen to do so; and upon his failure to do so, within a week after being requested, then a majority of the committee may issue a call for the meeting of the committee, and when the committee shall as semble on such call it shall have the author ity belonging to the committee when as sembled on the call of the Chairman.

Here is a plain programme, easily carried out. Let three members of the com-mittee request Chairman Maffitt to call a meeting of the committee. If he fails to do so within a week after being requested, let a majority of the 34 State Committeemen sign a call for a meeting. If Chairman Maffitt attends the meeting so called, well and good. If he fails to attend, the meeting should at once elect a Chairman and Secretary and proceed with the work confided to it.

What is the matter with the State Committee?

GOV. CLARKE'S VINDICATION.

Gov. Clarke is proving by his actions that in taking his first interview as a bid for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight the public misunderstood him. He is interpreting it in a way to thoroughly vindicate himself in public estimation and to convince the sluggers and their managers that any impression they may have formed as to the indifference of the Governor to the good name of Arkansas was erroneous.

The Governor has clearly made known his intention to prevent the "pulling off" of the fight in Arkansas. He has taken prompt and vigorous steps to make good this intention.

Criticism of Gov. Clarke's action and rotests from the local authorities of Hot Springs against an attempt to exceed his authority are not in good form. The friends become alarmed. Governor has not yet exceeded his authority, nor has he sent militia to Hot Springs. He is only preparing to meet an emergency which may arise. If the local authorities do their full duty and meet all the requirements of the situation there will be no ground of complaint against either the Governor or themselves. Gov. Clarke may rest assured that his attitude is heartily supported by public entiment.

THE BANKERS' ADVICE.

The addresses made at the Bankers' Convention in Atlanta, Ga., do not give assurance that the bankers will be equal to the high mission they have assumed for themselves of giving sound advice to the people of this country on the mone tary question.

The bankers are still harping on an elastic currency scheme which will place the control of the money supply in the hands of the bankers. They are still eager for corporation credit money, and for the practical transfer of the Govern ment's control of the currency to the banks. They still want a credit money based on Government debt and to pile Pellon upon Ossa in overloading the gold stock with promise-to-pay money, all of which may vanish at the first breath of panic when the people most need it.

It is probably true that much of the agitation of the currency question was caused by the proposition of the banks to turn over the money-issuing preroga-tive to them. But the effect of that agitation has not been to strengthen publi confidence in the monetary advice of the banks. It has not turned the public mind towards corporation-credit money brivate homes are found to be self-reliant, and often become the most successful men based on bonds and an easily cornered gold stock. When she conceived the idea of this colony she was happy with her husband and twelve children, against whose uplifted protest she persisted in founding the society. This was nine-teen years ago, since which time the society has steadily grown in numbers and wealth, chiefly through the efforts of Mrs. McWhirter, whose executive and business ability are indicated by the fact that at present she is a member of the Board of Trade and a director of the opera house syndicate of Belton. The membership, which is now thirty-two, includes several women who formerly occupied excellent positions in the social world.

Reincarnation To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch. Another Student in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, gives the theosophical argument for reincarnation, and puts his ideas in the orthodox theosophical language, which am not at all satisfied with. It is too much like orthodox religious arguments of any like orthodox religious arguments of any other kind, which being repeated ad nauseam becomes cant. What is meant by "setting up the causes of rebirth," and thus rendering it compulsory? Will Another Student please state some specific causes for rebirth being compulsory? Would the being in love with one of the opposite sex, and being debarred by circumstances from marrying the loved one, for instance, be an adequate cause?

Sousa's A. P. A. Day Music.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Any one with a sense of humor must be provoked to laughter by the beautiful appropriateness of Sousa's historical musical selections for A. P. A. day. "Sheridan's Coming" and "Sheridan's Ride." It's a wonder the delegation didn't kick like a Texas steer.. The music written to celebrate the gallant Irish Catholic soldier's defeat of the robels must have sounded ominous and suggested the expension of the robels must have sounded ominous and suggested the expension of the confusion of the robels must have sometimed and perhaps the prophetic fitness of things, it was an affront to the principles of the only "True American," it was certainly an insult to the memory of Gen. the Paducah (Ky.) News. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: "Kentucky should give Louisville a wholesome rebuke. It is absurd that a great State should be controlled by its chief city in matters of so much importance as a State elec-tion." Kentucky can be depended on to do the right thing at the right time. # GREAT SHAKE-UP IN POLICE RANKS.

Two New Captains and Fourteen Sergeants Appointed.

CAPT. KIELY'S PROMOTION.

Capt. Young Let Out, Five Sergeants Reduced and Nine Retired, Thirtyfive Patrolmen Dropped.

The agony is over. The Police Depart ment shake-up has taken place and now congratulations and condolences are in or-up than it has been for years. As long as it had to come everyone is glad that it is over, for the suspense was very trying. The fellows who got left are sorry, of course, but the more fortunate ones are correspondingly glad. And every good citizen hopes that it will improve the department.

SSISTANT CHIEF MATTHEW KIELY. cies.

In addition to these rather startling developments five Sergeants were reduced to the ranks, nine Sergeants retired on hair pay, fourteen patrolmen promoted to Sergeants, thirty-five patrolmen dropped and twenty-two retired on half pay.

For one day's session this was doing pretty well.

of plugging done for shaky coppers, and these are the times when a friend is a friend indeed.

The Commissioners started in on their work at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. They finished at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. This was a long siege for those on the anxious seat, but there was little else to do but grin and wait patiently, for information from the star chamber was as scarce as snow in St. Louis in August. Chief Harrigan was about the only man to get inside and he never stayed long. He would walk out like a sphinx; no hint could be obtained from him as to the work going on.
When they had at last finished the list they sent it out to the reporters room, where the excited mob in the halls fell ower pach other in a wild desire to get at it.
ligre is the report in full:

Assistant Chief Reedy having resigned,

Assistant Chief Reedy having resigned, owing to ill health, the board accepts his resignation with regret, as he has been a faithful and efficient offices, and he is relired on half pay at his present rank, Assistant Chief of Police, Capt. Maithew Kiely of the Fourth District is appointed Assistant Chief of Police, effective Oct. 17.

Capt. William Young of the First District is dropped from the rolls, effective Oct. 17, on account of his term having expired.

Sergt. John N. Pickel of the Third District and Sergt. E. J. Phillips of the Sixth District were premoted to the rank of captain, to take effect Oct. 17.

The following Sergeants were reduced to the ranks, their services having been unsatisfactory to the board: Thomas E. Allen, Pentral District; John Dugge, First District; W. S. Gregory, Fifth District, and Frank Shoemsker. Third District.

These patrolmen were promoted to be Sergeants: Albert Schwartz, P. J. Paul, M. J. Klein, Michael Stack, Patrick Mulligan, John F. Grass, Jas. Labin, John F. English, Cornellus Meehan, Daniel E. Patrolman Charles A. Hell of the Mounted District was reprinted and cautioned about quarreling.

The charges against Probationary Patrolman Patrick Burke of the Fourth District for conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman were dismissed without prejudice to the officer.

The charges against Patrolman Louis H. Schlucter, Fourth District, for neglect of duty were dismissed without prejudice to the officer.

Probationary Patrolman William J. Coleman, Third District, was suspended for fifteen days, in addition to a former fine of $10.

Capt. Young's dismissal is the result of a long continued fight on alm. He was formerly Captain of the Central District, and spoken of as a candidate for chief. Charges of immoral conduct were preferred against him and an effort made to get rid of him in this way. He weathered the storm, however, but was shortly afterward sent to Carondelet, where he commanded twenty-one men, and now comes the long expected finale.

carondeigt, where he commanded twentyone men, and now comes the long expected finale.

His four-years appointment is up Thursday, and he is simply not reappointed.

Capt. Kiely is the commanding officer in the Fourth District. He has a fine record and is a warm personal friend to Maj. Harrigan. His appointment to succeed Assistant Chief Reedy gives general satisfaction.

The elevation of Sergis. Pickel and Phillips is a surprise to those who are not on the inside. They are both young men and Pickel has been a Sergeant but eighteen months. They have fine records, however, and their appointments are looked upon with favor.

The reason given by the members of the board for the wholesale dismissal of patrolmen is lack of funds. During the hodcarriers' strike extra men were put on, which the appropriation could not carry through the whole year, and some one had to go. A round-up was made and records investigated with the above results.

to go. A round-up was made and records investigated with the above results.

Captain Matthew Kiely, the newly appointed night chief, has just completed his twentieth year of, service on the force, during which time he has never missed a day from work nor had a furlough.

Captain Kiely was born in Ireland in 1852 and came to this city in 1863. Six years later he joined the force. In 1869 he was made sergeant, and held this position until May 20, 1890, when he was made captain and placed in charge of the Fourth District, where he has remained with great credit to himself and the department.

Captain Kiely is the treasurer of the Knights of St. Patrick and is well known as a fearless officer and a good citizen. He lives with his wife and their seven children at 3028 Dickson street.

Captain E. J. Phillips is a native American, having been born in New York State in 1850. He came to St. Louis when quite a young man and was appointed to the force in 1875. He was put in the Central District where he remained until 1882, when he was transferred to take charge of and open the new Cote Brilliante Sub-Station. After eighteen months duty there he was put on special duty on the old St. Charles Rock Road, then one of the toughest beats in the city, and effectually broke up the gang that infested that part of the town. Later he was stationed at Sixth and Olive streets, where he made an enviable record of arrests, making several big captures. In 1891 he was made sergeant and placed in the Sixth District. Captain Phillips is married and lives at 4574 Lucky street.

WROTE THE POPE A NOTE, How Six St. Louis Girls Got a Private Audience.

Six bright St. Louis girls have given the staid, diplomatic circle of the pontifical court something to talk about and somecourt something to talk about and something to admire. For the American girl's pluck and charmingly insouciant way of asking when she don't see what she wants in sight is regarded by Europeans as an expression of virtuosity.

The St. Louis girls certainly did give the yellow-coated Swiss guards and the purple-robed mosignari and chamberlains and the scarlet-caped Cardinais something to talk about. They happened along in Rome about the time that the Garbaldians were celebrating the fail of the paney. The Pope was in strict retirement. A stranger couldn't wedge into the Vatlean with a crowbar But the St. Louis girls were diplomats.

Count Harry Cassell, formerly of Denver, but now a Papal Count and an attache of the Pope's household, was in St. Louis has year. While here he was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donovan. Their daughter, Miss Lucy Donovan, was one of the party. He put himself at their disposal the moment they arrived in Rome, but warned them that it was useless to ask for a note to the Holy Father. He did and the next afternoon the party were summoned to the Vatican, where his Holiness gave them a private audience, conversed with each for five minutes in French and then invited them to attend mass and receive communion from his hands the following morning. He gave them a second audience after the mass and blessed them.

Congressman Bartholdt Makes Startling Charges.

MEN SOLD TO THE PADRONES

Results of an Investigation of the Emigration From Europe Made by the Tenth District Congressman.

Traffic in human flesh is not a pleasant thing to contemplate in a land of free in-stitutions, but it exists in the United States, according to Congressman Richard Barth-oldt of the Tenth Congressional District. This is only one of the unpleasant revelations that have resulted from Dr. Bartheldt's extended tour of Europe officially investigating the immigration problem, though not all of his observations on the subject of his tour were unpleasant. Among other things he thinks he has solved the servant girl problem. He also solved the servant girl problem. He also brings back with him a pleasant recollection of a visit to the Iron Chancellor.

Monday night Dr. Bartholdt arrived in St. Louis from New York, having reached there from Europe the Tuesday previous. The intervening time he had spent at Ellis Island, the place of detention for immigrants, and being thoroughly-fagged out, has been resting ever since. Wednesday morning a Post-Dispatch reporter called upon Dr. Bartholdt at his residence, 3319 South Ninth street, and in the ensuing conversation the leading Republican member of the Congressional Committee on Immigration gave a synopsis of a report which, when submitted to Congress, will create a decided impression and probably result in the radical revision of the present immigration laws.

Dr. Bartholdt conducted his investigation in an official capacity. As summed up briefly by him, its more important results with probably be the exclusion, as far as possible, of the lower classes of Italians and Russians from these shores. This will have to be done by a method that will not precipitate international complications, and Dr. Bartholdt has a plan almost formulated. Other classes of immigrants Dr. Bartholdt considers a valuable acquisition to the United States.

While Dr. Bartholdt sat in his front parlor, and with a cigar in his hand, which repeatedly went out because of his interest in his subject, there were interruptions from his constituents desirous of shaking the hand that Bismarck shook. To lunch with Bismarck is an honor that but two citizens of America have ever enjoyed—Carl Schurz and Dr. Bartholdt. The latter has always been popular in his district, but since he has lunched with Bismarck those of his constituents who have heard of it say he can have a life job in Congress if he wants it.

At the last meeting of the Immigration Committee of the Lower House of Congress the question of studying the immigration problem at its source came up, and Dr. Bartholdt suggested that he undertake the task during his prospective trip to Europe. It was thereupon unanimously decided that he been authorized to conduct a thorough inbeen authorized to conduct a thorough investigation on behalf of the committee. He then received from the State Department a letter to the representatives of the United States abroad to insure him official recognition, and on June 5 sailed from New York

"To begin at the beginning," said Dr. Bartholdt, "I first saw Mr. Keenan, our Consul at Bremen. With his assistance I was enabled to make observations that startled me. Bremen and Hamburg are the ports from which the greatest number of immigrants to this country ship. They arrive there from Italy, Hungary, Russia and almost every other part of the Continent, and cast their lots together for the trip to the new haven. There is daily a conglomerate mass on the docks, an assortment of nationalities and a medley of tongues that furnishes abundant material for the student of human nature. Such I became for the time, at least, for I was intent upon learning, at the place where most was to be learned, what manner of people were seeking our shores. Although I was very intent upon the practical phase of the situation, some of the seenes impressed me forcibly by their sentimental and sometimes poetic incid ints. Occasionally entire families would come to wave a last parting to one of their humber and the display of grief and affection was moving. However, this is not to be dwelt upon. What I have brought back with me is of a far more practical character."

"What was the greatest evil you found regrief and affection was moving. However, this is not to be dwell upon. What I have brought back with me is of a far more practical character."

"What was the greatest evil you found resulting from immigration as it now exists?" was asked Dr. Bartholdt.

"Undoubtedly what appears plain to me is a well regulated and systematized practice by which men are brought to the United States and sold into slavery. All my efforts to establish this by actual proof/have been unavailing, but that such traffic exists is absolutely the only inference possible from the situation as it exists. My attention was first drawn on my trip abroad, by the difference noticeable at Bremen and Hamburg, between the German and Scandinavian emigrants, as they embarked, and the Hungarians and Italians. The two former classes are generally healthy and cleanly in appearance. They cannot be objectionable upon their arrival here. The Germans especially I found were each bringing to the United States something in the way of personal property, some having as many as two and three trunks, and some money. The Hungarians and Italians, more especially the latter, were in striking contrast. In most cases they had only bundles that a child could carry, and as a rule no money. From all that I saw and dould learn, I was forced to the belief that in most cases they had colly bundles that a child could carry, and as a rule no money. From all that I saw and dould learn, I was forced to the belief that in most cases they had colly bundles to the United States with their passage paid by the New York padrones, who are importing these men and keeping them in abject slavery for years after their arrival, until they become sufficiently enlightened to throw of the yoke. It was impossible to elicit from these Italians who were flocking to Bremen and Hamburg for embarkation, anything in regard to how they had arranged for their passage. The fear of the Maña on that side kepi them slent there: the dread of the Maña here prevents their revealing anything und ignorance of

"Do you actually believe slavery possible in America?" Inquired the reporter.

"Not only possible, but an axising fact," replied Dr. Bartholdt. "You remember that it was at one time charged that an Italian ambassador at Washington, D. C., and an Italian consul at New Fork were in such a deal. Again, before our committee during the last Congress, an Italian philanthropist produced evidence in an individual case demonstrating the truth of the assertion that the trame exists. Unfortunately fit was not sufficiently definite for proceedings in court. In Bremen I found these Italians absolutely without money, and of the very poorest class, suffering in fact, abject poverty. They could not have paid their own passage. Therefore some one paid it for them. Who but the padrones? And I assert that right now these poor, pitiable creatures are being sold to the mining compelled by the New York padrones to relinquish to them regularly a certain part of their wages. You have noticed the cry against foreign labor in Pennsylvania. It has been asserted that alien labor constitutes the great majority of the wage-workers in that state, The explanation is found in the Padrone system."

"Have you conceived a remedy?"

titles the great majority of the wage-workers in that state. The explanation is found in the Padrone system."

"Have you conceived a remedy?"

"A proposition has been made and has been pending for years in Congress, which was called forth by the general outery against allen labor, this particular phase being a very recent development. It is that an inspection of immigrants by the United States Consul at their home port be required before their embarkation and that no man be allowed to land in the United States without a satisfactory certificate from the Consul of such inspection. I made it my business to study the effects of this proposition, and find, to tell the truth, that it would be a scheme to promote bad rather than good immigration. It is impossible for a Consul to know what kind of a man applies for a certificate. He has to rely, in lis ludgment on a certificate furnished the applicant by his own home authorities. My bellef is, after inquiry, that such certificates will be given with slacrity to people whom it is desired to get out of their home country and refused those who are good citizens.

"A better, and an effectual remedy, I think, would be the establishing of a more string the such provision in New York, especially with regard to the Italians, and an extension of the authority of the immigration officials beyond their present limitis. I mean that a certain control should be exercised over the scaure work, how whem up in New York and find out where they go, where they secure work, how much they earn and under what arrangements they came to the United States. In other words there should be a well-organized detective system by which could be prevented the operation of the padrone system."

"Do you consider the Hungarian element more desirable than the Italian?"

"I found the Hungarian immigrants a

"Do you consider the Hungarian ele-ment more desirable than the Italian?"
"I found the Hungarian immigrants a little better. They may be classed between the lower classes of Germans and the Ital-ians. They usually have a little money, and I could see by looking at them that they were not assisted immigrants, but were coming to America of their own free will.

were coming to America of their own free will.

"From Bremen I went into the interior of Germany, stopping at some places a week at a time. I found very little talk about emigration, and that the idea was discouraged by the officials. Emigration from Germany to the United States, though, is still stronger than from any other country, principally because of the military service required. It seems to me that young men of fairly good schooling, for whom Europe has paid the expenses of his raising and education, if a man with two strong arms and healthy mind, and willing to work and identify himself with our institutions, should be looked upon as a welcome immigrant. He represents capital in a certain sense. His non-productive period, when he was to an extent a burden to the commonwealth, is over. He in reality owes a debt to his country, and I heard talk by the Government in Germany of introducing a bill in the Reichstag restricting emigration on this very theory."

Having explained the growing male emi-

Having explained the growing male emi-gration from Germany Dr. Bartholdt was asked why the female emigration was so great. asked why the female emigration was so great.

"I found it due," said Dr. Bartholdt, "to the relatively good wages that girls in Germany are told they can earn here as servants. They are anxious for a chance and supplied with passage money would be eager to make the trip. As for older immigrants, I found on inquiry that they do not come to America because they are criminals or burdens at home. In almost every instance I found that they have relatives here or that they were starting with a legitimate desire to better their condition. I found that attempts are no longer being made in Germany to send us criminals or paupers. They find over there that trouble is sure to follow.

"Hamburg was the only other port that I visited. I found conditions about the same there as at Bremen, save for the presence of Russian Jews. While I, as a philanthropist, look with tolerance topon an attempt to better their condition, I must state that the appearance of these Russian Jews did calcions, contrary to law, the inference to be drawn is very strong that such is the case.

"At Hamburg I also encountered the Polish immigrants. I should class them with the Hungarians. From Hamburg I went to Leipsic. The American Consul there agreed with me that the proposed home Consular Inspection would not be practicable. I then went to Dresden, making a short stay, and then became a "looker-on in Vienna," my visit to the Austrian capital being principally for pleasure. I visited Munich and then went to Switzerland, whence we get an enormous immigration, considering the country's population. I consider the Swiss immigrant highly desirable. They come to the United States not with a desire to set up a government of their own, but to become one of us. They are about like the Germans. From Switzerland down the Rhine I went to Mayence and met our Consul there, Perry Bartholow, a citizen of St. Louis, by the way. I consulted with him regarding Consular inspection of immigrants, and he, too, agreed with me that it was impracticable. After visiting Cologne, and another trip to the center of Germany, I visited Bismarck at Friedricksruhe."

Dr. Bartholdt's cigar had long since gone out for the third time, but he paused to relight it, and drew in a long breath of smoke as he reflected pleasantly for a moment upon his visit to the Iron Chancellor.

"Prince Bismarck invited me to lunch." resumed Dr. Bartholdt at length.
"Ah! You visited Bismarck and he invited you to lunch?" ecstafically interrupted one of Dr. Bartholdt's constituents, who had happened in.

Such an interpretation would be to exclude the best classes, mechanics and men skilled in their trades, and I do not think the labor organizations themselves would ask it.

OFFICIAL BATTING AVERAGES Place Jesse Burkett in the Lead of the League.

President Young has completed the batting averages of the League players of '95 who played in fiften games or more.

Jesse Burkett, the Cleveland outfielder, leads the League with the phenomenal average of 423. Four Philadelphians come next, as follows: Delehanty, with an average of .599; Hamilton, with .333, standing fourth; Clements fifth, with .389, while Turner, with .383, ties Lange, the Chicago outfielder.

Jennings, the Baitimore shortstop, is in seventh place, .385, and Stenzel of Pittsburg eighth, at .384. The champion Orioles show by their averages that their stick work was an important factor in their scrappy bid for the pennant, as 'Mugay' MoGraw. 'Steve' Brodle and Kelley all have over .350 to their credit. One. and perhaps the principal, feature of the season's work at the stick is that seventy players have an average of .390 and over.

Jim McGuire, the Senators' backstop, leads the Washington team with an average of .390. Cartwright is a good second, with .27 to his credit, and Selbach, with .324, ranks third among the Senators, tieing Hawley and Beckley of Pittsburg, and Sheehan of St. Louis. Scrappy Joyce has an average of .308. Anderson, .301; Crooks, .291; Boyd, .284; Abbey, .275; Mercer, .254; Maul, .353; Schiebeck, .182.

Hamilton leads the League in stolen bases, with 35 during the season. Lange of Chicage is next with 79, and McGraw comes third with 69, Jennings with 60, Kelley with 59 and Keeler with 57, all Orioles, occupying fourth, fifth and sixth places in the stolen base record.

Cartwright of Washington and Stenzel tie for seventh place in the stolen base record with 52 to their credit. Tom Brown has 51 steals and is in eighth place, tieing Everett of Chicage.

Jack Crooks ties Miller, Dowd and Smith for nineteenth place on the bases, each getting 35, and Joyce and Buck Ewing 34 each, are in the twentieth position. Abbey and Selbach of Washington are tied for twenty-third honors, with 30 each.

CRACK REVOLVER SHOTS. Will Challenge English Experts for Match.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK. Oct. 16.—A movement is on foot to organise a revolver club, from which a team of experts, numbering four to ten men, will be chosen, and a challenge will be sent to England for an international match by cable. Dr. C. T. Adams of the New Manhattan Athletic Club is the prime mover, and he expects to have matters in shape in a very short time. Dr. Adams said that the idea was to revive interest in revolver shooting. He thought that an international match would prove an attraction.

The St. Louis University foot ball team will play the West Ends to-morrow at the old Pastimes' grounds, in De Hodiamont. Bob McDonaid says the university boys are in excellent condition and will give the West Ends a hard struggle.

Butterworth is said to have mastered a foot ball curve. He kicks the ball so that it goes perfectly straight for a distance, and then, as an opponent is about to gather it in, it shoots off in an entirely different direction, and so aids the side of the kicker. Jimmy Lindsey, the Omaha lightweight, who was convicted of manslaughter for killing Fletcher Robbins in a prize-fight at Plattsmouth, Neb., several months ago, will have to serve two years in the penitentiary for it. The Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the sentence of the lower court. Referee Griswold, who was equally guilty with Lindsey, under the law, has so far managed to escape punishment. The fight was a brutal contest, full of fouls, which were conveniently overlooked by Griswold, as it turned the tide in favor of Lindsey, who was all but out in the first part of the Edward Hanlon, the oarsman, arrived in Austin, Tex., this morning and will go into active training for the Austin regatts.

THE YERKES TELESCOPE. Prof. Barnard Very Conservative in His Expectations.

Cal., arrived in Chicago yesterday to assume his position as head of the astronomical department of the University of Chicago. Owing to the delay in the construction of the Yerkes Observatory, due to the present lack of building iron, Prof. Barnard will not begin active work in the observatory until some time in January, but will devote his time during the autumn quarter to writing and lecturing under the auspices of the university extension department.

When questioned regarding the possibilities of the great Yerkes telescope and the advantages or disadvantages of its location at Lake Geneva, the professor was inclined to be conservative in his remarks. "Let us dismiss the sensational ideas concerning the possibilities of a new and great telescope, so commonly expressed, and stick to the facts," he said.

"In the first place, as to the moon. No telescope will ever be built that will give us much additional information about it. No telescope, no matter how powerful it may be, will ever show the moon clearly at an apparently closer range than 100 to 150 miles as seen by the naked eyc.

"In regard to the statement made by one of the newspapers not long ago that one important thing the great forty-inch telescope, and which were supposed to be an attempt on the part of the inhabitants of Mars to open up communication with the people of the earth.' This project must fail utterly when it is known no such "signal lights" were ever seen upon Mars with the Lick telescope, but, in all probabilities, were seen only by an expert and keen sighted newspaper man. The fact is, the man of Mars (and his 'signals') must be forever undiscovered upon descriptions. paper man. The fact is, the man of Mars and his 'signals') must be forever undis-

"We expect to gain some knowledge in the study of the surfaces of Uranus and Neptune and in the study of the double stars and the satellites of the different planets. There are still many unsolved problems concerning fixed stars, revolving Unary stars and solar prominences.

"We have everything to expect for an excellent performance of Chicago's great glass. The very location of the forty-inch at Lake Geneva may have an important bearing on the future of great telescopes, though as to the meteorological conditions that prevail at Geneva I am as yet unable to speak."

AN OHIO GIRL TELLS HOW SHE FOUND IT.

OVERHEARD IN THE CARS.

Some women, says the Daily Commercial, have found a fortune in their faces, while others have found a fortune in their figures. But more interesting and profitable than the experiences of these, is that of the Ohio girl who actually found a fortune in her ear.

This young lady has been a resident of the Buckeye State for fifteen years. Her present home is in Cincinnati, where she ranks as one of the most successful musicians and voice trainers in the entire west. Her personal attractiveness and unusually

To look at her bright, rosy, girlish face one would suppose that her life had been one of perpetual sunshine, and that she had never known a moment's unharpiness. No one would for an instant surmise that this same girl had for nearly two years been the victim of a tormentor that came near blasting her life and robbing her of her reason. cars, I would not be here to-day, telling you of my wonderful recovery. My hearing that conversation proved a fortune to me.

The above case, reported by the Commercial, is by no means an exceptional one. Many thousands have given their voluntary, written testimony in support of the wonderful curative and new life-giving powers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Many of these have asked that their experiences be made public for the benefit of other sufferers. Among these, Miss Loula Lindsey of Ringgold, Pittsylvania Co., Va., rites; "Last August I was taken sick and was confined to bed for nearly six months. I had four doctors to see me, but it just seemed to me that they could relieve me only for a short while. I had a bad cough, and all thought I was going into consumption. After being sick for so long my nerves were nearly exhausted and my stomach, liver and bowels refused to act—in fact, my whole system was completely wrecked. I could not rest nor sleep, unless influenced by some drug, and at last mother concluded to try Dr. Pierce's medicines on me. She had taken them about a year before and had been greatly benefited by their use, so she said I will try the last resort—for I had been said I will try the last resoft—for I had been given up to die. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I improved rapidly—was soon able to be up in my room, and to my surprise, I shine, and that she had never known a moment's unhar piness. No one would for an instant surmise that this same girl had for nearly two years been the victim of a tormentor that came near blasting her life and robbing her of her reason. Her life presents one of those cases where present appearances fail to give an insight into past experiences.

It was during an entertainment at the College of Music in which she took part, that she contracted what she then regarded as a slight cold. I took no notice of it at first, said the young ladv recently, to a Commercial reporter, b t in about a week small red spots appeared o i my face, and so dis-poisoning, lung trouble and a complication of disorders were among the results of their diagnoses. My suffering was intense and I began wasting away to a mere shadow. Dreading the solicitude and sympathy which I could plainly read on the faces of my friends, I secretly changed my boarding place. When they found my new address I decided, by the advice of two physicians, to go to a private Sanitarium in Indiana. My journey in the cars, continued the young lady, was a terrible ordeal, for, aside from my physical suffering, I saw that, although I wore a veil, the passengers avoided the seats near me. the passengers avoided the seats near me, and between my coughing spells I could not but hear that they talked about my hopeless condition and disfigured face.

TWO KILLED AND MANY INJURED

The Worst Wreck Ever Known on the Altoona Division.

SEVERAL CARS MASHED.

A Water Train and a Mixed Freight and Passenger Come Together on the Pennsylvania.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 16.-Two men were killed and one fatally and several slightly injured in a wreck on the Martinsburg branch of the Pennsylvania Rallroad to-F. GOOD of Henrietta, fireman of the day. The dead are:

W. F. GOOD of Henrietta, fireman of the Martinsburg train.

J. C. WOODRING of Tyrone, front brakeman of the water train; both legs cut off and head crushed.

The week occurred between the Martinsburg train, hauling milk and Altoona shop I workmen, and a water train, a mile west of this city. The water train, consisting of several tank cars, had been ordered to proceed to the "Y" switch, near Hollidaysburg, to get water for the Altoona shops, and was just pulling from a siding to the main track when the Martinsburg train came around the curve at full speed. The collision completely demolished both locomotives and mashed several of the tank cars. The passenger cars kept the track.

The following were injured:

DAVID ARTHUR of Altoona, engineer of the Martinsburg train, badly scalded and injured internally, cannot recover.

HENRY BLACKBURN, engineer of the water train, seriously, but not fatally hurt. WM. JONES of Burketts Station, a passenger, was thrown through a door and pasinfully injured.

BEN WEYANDT of Roaring Springs, a passenger, badly cut about the arms.

CONDUCTOR DAVIS of the passenger train escaped with slight injuries.

A number of others were more or less cut by fiying glass.

flying glass.

A confusion of orders is responsible for a accident, which is the most serious that ar occurred on the Altoona division.

BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER.

Majority and Minerity Reports Changing the Title Page.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.-Among the reports pre House of Deputies on the Episcopal Convention was one from the Committee on Nominations, naming as trustees of the General Theological Seminary all of the old board, and proposing Henry Butt as the successor of Rev. Dr. Hall, deceased. successor of Rev. Dr. Hall, deceased.
Majority and minority reports on the proposition of the Bishops to change the title page of the Book of Common Prayer precipitated a warm discussion. The Bishops desired to insert the words "According to the American use" rather than insert the whole name of the church. This was interpreted by some as a move toward changing the name of the church. It was also argued that the revision of the prayer book had been completed in 1822, and dropped, and that it would be unwise to take it up again.

The One Asked to Prevent the Other From Being Sold by Raffle.

Attorney Paul Gadwen, representing the Woman's Humane Society, petitioned Probate Judge Rassieur Wednesday afternoon to prevent the raffling of a papoose in the Indian camp in the basement of the Exposition Wednesday night.

Interpreter Trott, who was in charge of the Indian camp at the Exposition Wednesday morning in the temporary absence of Buck Taylor, the cowboy chief of the band, laughed at the idea of C. W. Price, agent of the Humane Society, stopping the raffle. The proposed sale of the Indian baby is sald to be in accordance with Indian caustom, which requires a widow to dispose of her children as preliminary to a second marriage.

THE "SPOTTERS" ARE HERE

They Are Living in Style and the Let-ter-Carriers Are in Sore Distress.

The "spotters" are here and the 250 letter carriers of St. Louis, who have suspected it for over a week, are on pins and needles because of the certainty.

The report in Tuesday's, Post-Dispatch that 173 carriers of Chicago had received notices from the headquarters at Washington tices from the beadquarters at Washington that charges warranting dismissal had been preferred against them, made the gray-coated mercuries of this city auspicious of every stranger they met.

And there is ground for apprehension on the part of the derelict. Quartered at the Planters, Southern and Lindell Hotels are forty men of presentable exterior registered under various names from various towas. These men are the "spotters." By the best information obtainable by watchful carriers the "spotters" finished their task of "testing" the carriers of Chicago on Saturday, October 5, and came to St. Louis at once. They have been here ever since and will be here for several weeks. They they will vanish like the mists of the morning and a few days inter some St. Louis carriers will receive bad news from Washington.

Rhein carried both Befleville and East St. Louis and was elected by a small plurality. Boston, the third party candidate, made a creditable race, receiving nearly 1,000 votes out of a total of about 9,000 cast. The semi-official returns give Rhein a plurality of 128. # ORIENTAL THEATER MUSS.

Creditors Getting Hungry for Their Money and Threaten Proceedings.

The new board of managers and directors of the Oriental Theater and a large contingent of creditors held a lengthy session Tuesday afternoon in the office of Attorney Robert McLaren, who represents in a legal manner the majority of creditors. The meeting was to determine what future policy should be adopted to insure the payment of claims against the company. So far $78,000 of work and material have been put in the improvements, and not a cent has been realized.

Propositions to hold the property or to try and induce some responsible manager to take a lease on the place were advanced and considered, but nothing definite was arrived at.

Another meeting will be held this afterto take a lease on the place were advanced and considered, but nothing definite was arrived at.

Another meeting will be held this afternoon, and a proposition which has been made to buy up all the claims against the theater will be acted upon. These claims can now be bought at a considerable discount.

The revolution for the independence and creation in Cuba of a democratic republic, initiated the 4th day of February last, solely declared the separation of Cuba from the Spanish monarchy.

The elected delegates of the revolution in convention assembled have now formed a compact between the world and Cuba, and pledge themselves to the following articles of the constitution of the new Cuban republic:

Art. 1. The supreme power of the republic will be vested in a council of ministers, composed of a President, a Vice-President and four Secretaries, for the dispatch of business of war, foreign affairs, agriculture and State affairs.

Art. 2. Every secretary will have a subsecretary in order to supply a vacancy.

Art. 3. The attributes of the ministerial government will be to dictate all dispositions of the civil and political life of the republic; to receive contributions; to contract public loans; to issue paper money; to raise troops and to maintain them; to declare reprisals with respect to the senemy and to ratify treaties, except the peace with Spain; to submit judicial authority to the President; to approve the law of military organization and ordinances of the military service as drawn up by the Commander-in-Chief.

Art. 4. The Ministerial Council only will be able to intervene in taking part in the military operations, when, in their judgment, it will be absolutely necessary.

Art. 5. It is requisite of the validity of the Ministerial Council decrees that two-thirds of the members will have concurred in them.

passed or attempted to pass spurious tendollar silver certificates, bearing the Headricks head.

Despite the unanimity and number of the identifications, Arnold and Benefield deny their guilt and aver that the people are mistaken in their identifications.

Although the counterfeits are poor in material and execution, the Faderal authorities are anxious to learn, where they are made, because a number of them, apparently of the same make, have turned up in various cities in the past year. Several of them were discovered in Kansas City last July.

Arnold and Benefield were arrested Oct. 8, at the instance of Mrs. Ella Flichner, who has a confectionery at Twenty-eighth streat and Lucan avenue. She aliaged that they passed a 10 counterfeit at her place. On

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.-Dr. Nannie A. Stevens testified in Judge Scarritt's court in her divorce suit against Ralph Stevens. She said her husband called her a "she doctor" in a tone of voice that implied contempt. On one occasion she was consulting with another doctor downstairs, when the baby, in bed with its father upstairs, began to cry. She went up and said to him, "Why don't you put that baby to sleep?" and he told her he was not going to "feed her if she did not attend to her household duties." At another time she had been up all night with a typhoid fever patient, and in the morning telephoned to her husband to send the carriage for her. She had to walk home, and when she reproached him for it, he replied, "A little walk will do you good." Dr. Stevens said that when she got home that morning he didn't even have breakfast ready. A. SUIT AGAINST RECEIVERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 16.-Argu-

in the Court of Claims.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.-The suits brought in the Court of Claims to re cover the taxes imposed by the Government on alcohol used in medicinal compounds and in the arts will probably come up at the session of the court which begins next week. Under the present tariff law alcoholused in medicinal compounds and in the arts was to be free from taxation under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Owing to the difficulty of carrying out the law, however, and upon the representation that it could open the way fer wholesale fraud the Secretary declined to make regulations and, despite the protests of manufacturing pharmacists and others using alcohol exempt from taxation by the terms of the tariff law, the tax was collected. CHARACTER IN CLOTHES.

There is as much difference in Clothing as there is between the extremes of good and bad in mankind. Some of it is absolutely worthless, a good deal is dishonest, more is without individuality of any sort, and some is full of character.

It is in its Character, if we may say so, that the Clothdistinguished from the ordinary sorts. It has style, as well as sterling worth. It is high class in the possession of that indefinable something that poorly made goods always must lack! It is not high-priced necessarily.

IN THE MATTER OF CLOTHING

For men there is little to be said that isn't pretty well known wherever we are known, and that is all the way from East to West, We haven't established our great business and our reputation for superior workmanship and materials upon nothing, you may be sure.

But a first-rate place for Boys' and Children's Clothing isn't so easy to find. We fancy our Children's Department is one of the handsomest, as well as one of the best, in the country. If you haven't rested in the cozy parlor you don't know what comfort in shopping is.
